SHOPPERS in Green Lanes had a lucky escape last week when masonry fell from a rooftop and on to the street below.

Council surveyors – with support from the fire service – were quickly on the scene to inspect the property and remove loose debris to make the building safe.

They also undertook a visual inspection of other properties in the street and found one needed emergency attention.

Now Haringey Council is reminding all homeowners and landlords to check their buildings are in a safe condition.

Alan Strickland, cabinet member for economic development, said: “We are writing to the owners and occupiers of similar properties in Green Lanes to alert them to what has happened and remind them that it is their responsibility to check that their buildings are in a safe condition.

“We are also carrying out visual inspections of buildings in Green Lanes from the footpath and will contact the owners of any property we believe requires a more detailed inspection.

“The maintenance and repair of buildings is the responsibility of the owners, but where we deem a building to be imminently dangerous, we will take emergency action to remove the danger and will charge the owner for that action.”

Any building owner who has concerns about the masonry or render of their property can contact Haringey Council Building Control for advice on 020 8489 1000 or email building.control@haringey.gov.uk

FUNDING BOOST FOR RUNAWAYS SERVICE

A SERVICE to support runaways and children at risk on the streets of Haringey has received a massive financial boost.

Aviva is injecting £300,000 into the project as part of a collaboration between the firm's charity partner, Railway Children, and Barnardo's.

The funding will also enable the Miss U scheme, which currently operates in Camden, to be extended to both Haringey and Islington for three years.

The funding is seen as critical in addressing the lack of services for young runaways in London and is part of Aviva's on-going partnership with Railway Children, a national charity that supports vulnerable children alone and at risk on Britain's streets.

Terina Keene, Railway Children chief executive, said: “We know that young people are looking to society and the government to do more to help those facing difficult home circumstances to stop them running away.

“Having survived a very difficult home environment, many young runaways have lost their trust in adults and see the streets as their only alternative if they feel they cannot live at home any longer.

“Faced with limited choices and not knowing where to turn, many vulnerable young runaways end up living alone on the streets, where they are at risk of violence, sexual abuse and drug or alcohol dependency.

“It's vital we reach these children before they come to further harm. By working with Aviva and Barnardo's, we can increase the network of support available to young people in north London who have run away from home or are thinking of running away.”

Every year in the UK an estimated 100,000 young people under the age of 16 run away from home and one in six of these end up sleeping rough. As part of the project, Railway Children has announced singer Alexandra Burke as its first UK ambassador.

The former X Factor winner visited her old school in Islington last week to help run a runaway prevention awareness class to a group of 11 to 12-year-olds.

She said: “It's shocking that here in the UK children are ending up alone and at risk on our streets. But what's more alarming to me is that people aren't talking about it more. This affects every one of us. It's not just something that happens in other countries, it's happening right now in our communities and on our streets. We need to start shouting about it. I hope that as an ambassador to Railway Children I can help spread the word.

“When I was young, at this very school, I was lucky enough to be encouraged by those around me to follow my dreams. Not every child is lucky enough to have such great support and that's why projects that reach out to kids on the ground are so important. If you're facing tough times at home and feel you have nowhere else to turn and are thinking about running away, remember – support is out there to help you. Don't suffer in silence.”

Aviva's funding for the Barnardo's Miss U service is part of its global Street To School programme, which aims to get children off the streets and into education by providing support to on-the-ground networks that reach these vulnerable children directly.

Charity grant

AN AWARD-winning youth media charity has been handed a grant six months after funding from Haringey Youth Service was axed.

Established in 1996, Exposure helps teenagers improve their confidence and sense of purpose, developing communication skills by involving them in meaningful media-related activities.

“This will enable Exposure to go on to even bigger and better things,” said Andreas Koumi, Exposure's manager.

For further information, call 020 8883 0260 or email info@exposure.org.uk

Cuts protest

PROTESTERS against local authority cuts will lobby at a full meeting of Haringey Council next week.

Haringey Alliance for Public Services is calling on residents and workers to speak out about how to defend services at the Civic Centre on Monday, at 6pm.

“It's time for everyone to stand together and challenge the cuts,” a spokesman said.

Visit www.hapsnews.net for more details on the protest.

Homes award

HOMES for Haringey has won the top award in the Serving the Community: Best Organisation category at the National WOW awards 2011.

The awards are the only national awards for outstanding customer service based on customer nominations. It is now the biggest awards ceremony of its type.

Paul Bridge, chief executive, said: “We know that excellent housing services can make a huge difference to people's lives and it is great to be recognised for the contribution we make each day in Haringey.”

SURVIVORS of military conflict turned out with serving members of the Armed Forces to commemorate those who have lost their life in battle for Remembrance Sunday.

The two-minute silence was observed alongside civic dignitaries and members of the public during a sombre and moving tribute.

Middlesex Regiment Association and Hornsey Cadets held a wreath-laying ceremony at Hornsey War Memorial before a church service at St Mary with St George Church, at the corner of Cranley Gardens and Park Road.

Services also took place at Wood Green War Memorial, in High Road, Wood Green, which was attended by borough mayor, Gina Adamou, and at Tottenham War Memorial, Tottenham Town Hall.

Mountain bikers looping the loop

THE official opening of the Lordship Loop mountain bike and BMX track is scheduled to take place early next month.

The 391-metre "pump track"-style trail loop, which has been created in open areas of woodland in Lordship Recreation Ground, Tottenham, is due to open on Saturday, December 3.

A day of celebrations starts at 10am with Rowan Sorrell and his Back On Track team riding at 11am before the track is opened to the public - with children going first.

A host of stalls will also be on hand, as well as fun and games throughout the day.

Daniel Mintz, chairman of off-road cycling club The Trax, which is based at the recreation ground, welcomed the arrival of the track.

He said: "This much-anticipated launch brings a much-needed, community-run facility for youth in Tottenham. The bike world and the local community are coming together to make this a sustainable venture."

"The launch heralds a new era of mountain biking because it is brought to a new generation of riders in an urban setting."

Lordship Loop is designed as a single-track experience and is made up of rollers, berms, roller doubles and step-up jumps. It is aimed at all abilities, with more challenging jumps for experienced riders.

The project has been delivered by specialist bike track builders Back On Track and Rowan Sorrell, managed by Haringey Council's recreation team.

The Trax will help ensure long-term sustainability by developing a bank of volunteers with bike track building and maintenance skills to undertake ongoing repairs alongside the council.

The Trax also is going to be affiliated to the International Mountain Biking Association and has been awarded a tool grant from the association.

REDKNAPP SET TO GO ON TRIAL

By Dominique Stafford

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR manager Harry Redknapp will face trial for alleged tax evasion early next year.

Redknapp, who is currently recovering from minor heart surgery, is accused of two counts of cheating public revenue while he was in charge of Portsmouth and will face trial along with former Pompey chairman Milan Mandaric.

Both men deny the charges, and a two-week trial is due to begin at London Southwark Crown Court on January 23.

Meanwhile, Redknapp hopes to be able to return to the dugout for Spurs' Premier League match at home to Aston Villa on Monday night.

Redknapp has missed Tottenham's past two games as a result of his heart surgery but, despite doctor's advice urging him to stay away from football for a month, the 64-year-old is optimistic he will be able to make an appearance at White Hart Lane.

He told the Sunday Mirror: "In an ideal world I would like to be back for the game against Aston Villa, but it would be unfair of me to say whether I will or won't at this stage.

"I'll have to speak to the specialist this week, get his thoughts on it and take it from there.

"Obviously it's extremely frustrating staying away and being stuck at home but, as much as I'm anxious to come back, it wouldn't be fair to disrespect the specialist who is advising me. I'm fairly confident that I will return earlier than they anticipated."

□ Skipper Ledley King has backed Tottenham to be the top London side this season and provide the main challenge to the two Manchester clubs.

Tottenham have picked up 22 points from a possible 24 in their past eight league matches, and King sees no reason why they cannot maintain their fine form.

"I hope we can become the biggest challenger to the Manchester teams," he said. "We're still learning, but at the moment we feel we can win every game we go into.

"We're confident at the moment and we feel we've got a really good team. Everyone is maturing."

Off to court: Harry Redknapp has been charged with tax evasion

Boro' come from behind to claim another victory

HARINGEY BOROUGH produced a fine second-half performance to come from behind and claim a 3-2 win at Holmer Green in the Spartan Premier Division on Saturday.

The visitors fell behind to an Adam Davis goal after just two minutes and they continued to be on the back foot for much of the opening 45 minutes.

But Borough looked a different team after they interval and a Dean Mason penalty saw them get back on level terms within four minutes of the restart.

Roland Namquitta put them ahead on 56 minutes and Richard Worrell sealed victory by adding a third which ensured that Gary Pape's stoppage-time effort was scant consolation for the hosts.

Meanwhile, Borough made light of the absence of leading scorer Worrell last Tuesday night as they booked their place in the quarter-finals of the Challenge Trophy with a thumping 6-2 win at Berkhamsted Town.

Chris Benjamin led the way with a hat-trick, while Guy Koffi and Tony Christian were also on target and Ed Farmer scored an own goal.

Borough now face a trip to Biggleswade United in the last eight of the competition.

Haringey Borough follow last night's home league match against Oxhey Jets by making the trip to Premier Division rivals Tring Athletic in the second round of the FA Vase on Saturday.
